

The Power of the Female Voice

Amsterdam March 7 2020 10am - 4pm

To feel the unity and power of women together was beyond this world, a complete joy to feel - Annelies van H.

Connect to and deepen your relationship with the power and natural authority of your voice and expression. In this workshop, Australian voice-coach Chris James invites you to explore your innate ability to express with confidence and ease. Experience the joy of singing with other women in unity, connecting to our innate sensitivity and power builds a strong foundation for expression in all areas of life.

Chris James, voice coach, singer and musician presents workshops internationally on the power of voice & self-expression. With over 25 years experience, Chris works with people of all ages – in schools, health-care, businesses. He has a unique ability to inspire and empower self-expression in a playful & easy way – speaking & singing.
